

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Aug. 15, 2018

Contact: robynforwi@gmail.com

Vining commends District 14 candidates; welcomes next stage of campaign

Wauwatosa — After Tuesday’s primary, the crowded field of candidates vying for the District 14 Assembly seat has narrowed. Democratic candidate Robyn Vining shared this statement:

“Democracy requires people willing to set aside their own lives and make sacrifices to step into the role of public service, not out of self interest but for the common good. It’s often a commitment that demands much of a candidate’s entire family. I commend the candidates and families who have given so much of their time and energy to the District 14 Assembly race, particularly my fellow Democrat Chris Rockwood, who withdrew from the race back in May, as well as the six other candidates from the other parties. I congratulate Mr. Adamczyk on winning his competitive primary and welcome him to the general election. I am committed to bipartisan solutions to nonpartisan problems. I look forward to working out the Wisconsin Idea, and our American ideals, by focusing respectfully on the issues and offering the people of District 14 a choice in representation.”

District 14 includes parts of Wauwatosa, Brookfield and Milwaukee. The seat was previously held by Republican Dale Kooyenga, who vacated the position to run for State Senate. The general election is Nov. 6.

About Robyn Vining: A former pastor turned entrepreneur, Vining was named American Mothers’ 2017 Wisconsin Mother of the Year because of her deep commitment to the community. Her platform is organized around three priorities: People, Planet and Profit. Learn more at www.robynforwi.com.